FOR HIGH SCHOOL
SENIORS ONLY

Did you know that most colleges early application deadline is in the fall of your senior year? Did you know that the free application for federal student aid (FAFSA) application will open up on October 1st? For high school seniors, setting goals and planning for your education after high school begins several months before high school graduation.

The goal of this workshop is to assist students with understanding how to successfully navigate the college admissions process, and to provide information on the full range of Federal financial aid programs and resources available for locating public and private scholarships. This event is targeted for high school seniors who plan to enroll in college after high school. During this event, a Talent Search academic coach will assist seniors with reviewing the college admissions process, learning what is needed to successfully apply to college, developing a senior year timeline to stay on track for college admissions, and identifying the steps involved with securing Federal financial aid. This is a community-based event open to all Renaissance Talent Search participants who are high school seniors in Durham, NC.
